To Whom This May Concern,

It is with great pleasure that I write this recommendation letter for Carson Racich. I had the pleasure of serving as Carson's coach when I was the Head Women's Golf Coach at Lamar University in Beaumont, TX.

During her time at Lamar, Carson's work ethic was the ultimate example and I continue to use her as a barometer in my current coaching activities. I have seen many dedicated golfers come through my programs, but they will always be just "one of the" hardest-working athletes I have ever coached, second to Carson. She arrived to practice every day with a great attitude, excited to learn and try new things. In addition to being extremely dedicated to her golf and studies, Carson was an incredible teammate and a great leader. She is an incredibly positive person and pleasant to spend quality time with.

It's evident that Carson carries the same values that made her a successful student-athlete into her professional life. She has been enthusiastic about everything she does and always goes beyond what her roles require. Her video projects with the APT and the award-winning stories she has created as a sports anchor for LUTV News highlight her versatility, creativity, and enthusiasm.

If I were a decision maker for your organization, I would welcome Carson aboard without hesitation.

Please feel free to contact me with any questions you may have and to learn more about my time with Carson.

Sincerely,
